

Volume 36

Number 1

Fall 2008

Lori Atkins Goodson James Blasingame	From the Editors	3
	Call for Manuscripts	5
Susan L. Groenke Joellen Maples	Critical Literacy in Cyberspace? A Case Study Analysis of One Preservice Teacher's Attempts at Critical Talk about Monster in Online Chats with Adolescents	6
James Bucky Carter	Die a Graphic Death: Revisiting the Death of Genre with Graphic Novels or "Why won't you just die already?" Graphic Novels and the Slow Death of Genre	15
Lori Atkins Goodson	Walter Dean Myers: A Monster of a Voice for Young Adults	26
Barbara Ward	Hearing Nancy Garden Out	32
Jeffrey Kaplan	Perception and Reality: Examining the Representations of Adolescents in Young Adult Fiction: The Research Connection	42
	Clip and File	A1–A8
Chris Crowe	Fahrenheit 113: A Story	50
Marshall George	Comparing Middle Grade Teachers' and Middle Grade Students' Reader Responses to Newbery Award Winners: A True Teacher's Lounge Story and the Question It Raised	55
Judith Hayn Lisa Hazlett	Connecting LGBTQ to Others through Problem Novels: When a LGBTQ Is NOT the Main Character	66
Joan Bauer, Chris Crutcher Gary Paulsen	"A True Calling That Grows More Lovely Each Year": Three Authors Pay Tribute to 2007 ALAN Award Winner, Teri Lesesne	73
Robert C. Small Kathryn H. Kelly Pam B. Cole	"Thank you, Pat, for bringing so many of us into the circle of young adult literature": A Tribute to 2007 Ted Hipple Service Award Winner, Patricia P. Kelly	74
Diane P. Tuccillo with Victoria Hanley	Reading, Writing, and Victoria Hanley	76
April Brannon	Teaching They Poured Fire on Us from the Sky: An Opportunity for Educating about Displacement and Genocide	80
CJ Bott Elizabeth McNeil	Parrotfish: A Parrot, a Fish, or Something in Between? An Interview with Ellen Wittlinger and Toby Davis	85