Summary

David Berry started his career in Materials Science and Engineering (MSE) as a Lab Mechanic in 1997 and was recently promoted to the position of Facilities Manager, which includes all aspects of safety. During his employment with MSE, David has contributed in major ways to the success of the department and its faculty, staff and students. Nearly every undergraduate and graduate student acknowledges David in their presentations, papers, and departmental surveys. While working full time, David took courses toward a degree in MSE and graduated in Fall 2006 with a B.S. degree. In January 2007, he was accepted into our graduate program and is now working on a Masters degree while still completing all of his responsibilities as a full time staff.
