SUMMARY

Angie demonstrated outstanding leadership in her role as a marketing team member at the Institute for Distance and Distributed Learning (IDDL). Under the oversight of Peter Macedo, Director of IDDL, Angie directly led, from design to implementation, an awareness campaign that subsequently impacted the enrollment of students into the university's online course offerings. It was her efforts, and commitment to the team and project, that ensured there was no disruption in our organizational communication, via four HTML launches and four table card distributions in our university dining halls, to the university's undergraduate students about the spring and summer online course offerings.

Angie always holds herself to a standard of excellence. She is a skilled and dedicated employee with a history that spans more than a decade's worth of service to IDDL and Virginia Tech.
