

Staff Employee of the Week

Drema Moser

For the past 17 years, Drema Moser, has served the Virginia Tech community as a housekeeping team member for Facilities Services. She is recognized by her colleagues for her outstanding attendance and honorable reliability. Previously employed at Moog Inc., she constantly integrates the knowledge from her her past experience to go above and beyond the expectations of her daily tasks at Virginia Tech. Her colleagues admire her work ethic and consider her to be an essential member of the Derring Hall housekeeping team.

“Drema always finds a way to lighten the load of a work with a smile or joke,” said Housekeeping Supervisor, Marie Teany. “Her colleagues admire her positive attitude and know her as someone who never complains.”

Born in Giles county, Moser is a self-proclaimed “country girl,” who in her free time loves to fish and camp. She also enjoys canning vegetables, making deer jerky, and homemade sausage.

“Moser demonstrates the secret to success,” said Teany. “It is not about how long you’ve worked, it is how you apply yourself and what you’ve learned.”
